Volunteer Registration Packet

Please check your program preference(s) for volunteer interest:

- Lucky Rider volunteering is one of our highest priorities. Lessons are separated into three sessions (spring/summer/fall) to give our special riders great opportunities to engage in therapy throughout the year. Volunteers are encouraged to commit to a full session. Through this program, you will have the opportunity to develop special friendships and make a lasting impact on the lives of our clients! Volunteers must be 16 years of age or older and are required to attend volunteer orientation and training.
 - EAL, or Equine Assisted Learning, volunteers are asked to volunteer various week days, as we work hands on to educate visiting classes. We promote team building, career exploration, specific programs for special education classes, and skill building.
 - Team Thunder, our special mini horses, visit with many senior centers, Hospice, Ronald McDonald House and attend PR appointments from April through October each year. Volunteers are asked to give their time on Wednesdays and work on a team. This is the only program that goes off the farm for most programming.
 - Fundraising Committee Members are asked to make a commitment to at least one project per year for various fund raising efforts. These volunteers have an enormous amount of motivation, organization, and passion. Come join us and meet new friends to share your passion.
 - Board of Trustee volunteers are elected to a three year term. Board members play an important role in everything Serenity Farm accomplishes. Resume and letter of intention should be sent to the Board President for consideration.
- *ALL volunteers must complete all appropriate paperwork (Registration Application, Medical Emergency Form, Photo Release Form, HIPAA Compliance Form, General Equine Waiver, and Copy of BCI Check) before beginning any projects with Serenity Farm Equestrian Center. Volunteers will be notified by the Executive Director or Coordinator upon placement into programs or projects.

Please note that background checks (see attached instructions) are required every 5 years to ensure integrity of the programs and comply with PATH standards.

HIPAA Compliance Form

HIPAA, Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996, relates to the standards for safeguarding the confidentiality of client medical information. All contract staff/volunteers are required to know these standards and comply with the policies of the barn where the contract staff/volunteer works that pertain to the protection of client medical information.

Protected Health Information (PHI), as created and defined by HIPAA, relates to individually identifiable health information that is transmitted in any form or medium. Health information becomes protected when it is combined with any piece of information that could identify the client. Examples of these “identifiers” include: name of client, all elements of dates, social security number, address and telephone number. A majority of the information obtained during the course of client care would be classified as PHI and therefore should be kept confidential.

As a health care worker, you are permitted by HIPAA to use/disclose PHI without the need for specific client authorization to carry out essential healthcare functions for “Treatment, Payment and Health Care Operations.”

- Treatment means the provision, coordination or management of health care by one or more health care providers, including consultation between health care providers or client referrals.
- Payment means activities of health care providers to obtain payment or be reimbursed for their services.
- Health Care Operations include those functions necessary to support core functions of treatment and payment. Examples include quality assessment and improvement activities, training, accreditation, certification, credentialing, licensing, reviewing competence, performance evaluations, business management and general administrative activities.

All Serenity Farm staff/volunteers must make reasonable efforts to limit the use or disclosure of, requests for, PHI to minimum amount necessary to accomplish intended purpose. You should communicate only the information that is needed by the person you are communicating with.

HOW TO PROTECT THE PRIVACY OF CLIENT’S PROTECTED HEALTH INFORMATION (PHI):

- Medical and personal information in the client’s file, or that you have heard, read, or are aware of is confidential.
- When someone asks you for information about a client, make sure they have the right to receive the information they are asking for.
- When you give client information out to others, give only the information the person needs to have.

- When you need to speak to a staff member about a client's condition or treatment, you should lower your voice to make sure that the conversation is not overheard by other clients or visitors. Never talk about a client, their illness, treatment, family or situation outside of the barn setting.
- Never discuss one client with another, even if the clients know each other.
- Protect client privacy by keeping documents and reports that have PHI on them in safe areas, out of the view of those who might happen to walk by.
- If you use the telephone, fax machine or email to share PHI with other facilities, organizations or staff/volunteers, make sure that the information you send is going to the correct person and that they have the right to receive the information.

I have read the above HIPAA Compliance Guidelines. As a Serenity Farm staff/volunteer, I agree to keep confidential any customer or client information that I am exposed to while on assignment. I understand that the breach of this confidentiality will be just cause for immediate removal from active status.

General Equine Waiver

Ohio law limits the liability of horse owners, trainers, stable owners, and other equine (horse) professionals for injuries or property damage you may incur as a result of equine activities (O.R.C Section 2305.40). To make certain you understand the risks involved, the waiver recipient named below required you to sign this waiver before you can participate in the equine activities, further, you agree that the waiver recipient, along with his, her or its officers, directors, shareholders, members, managers, employees and agents, heirs, successors, and assigns, including, but not limited to Serenity Farm Equestrian Center are not responsible for any of the following risks:

- The propensity of an equine to behave in the ways that may result in injury, death, or loss to the equine or to persons on or around the equine
- The unpredictability of any equine's reaction to sounds, sudden movement, unfamiliar objects, persons, or other animals;
- Hazards, including but not limited to surface or subsurface conditions;
- A collision with other equine, another animal, a person, or an object;
- The potential of an individual to act in a negligent manner that may contribute to injury, death, or loss to self or other persons, including but not limited to failing to maintain control over an equine or failing to act within his or her ability.

This waiver will be interpreted according to Ohio Law. To terminate it, you must do so in writing.
